

BIODIVER-CITY

How can urban biodiversity contribute to make our cities more attractive and more resilient?

Thursday 30.01.2020 _17:30
RiHub, Rijeka

AGENDA

17.30 - Opening

Representative of the French Institute in Croatia

Mrs Iva Lulić, Development and Strategic Partnerships Associate, Rijeka 2020

17.40 - What is urban biodiversity? What are the links between nature in cities, urban ecosystem services and citizens' well-being?

Mrs Elsa Caudron, Nature in city program coordinator, BirdLife France (LPO)

Mr Boštjan Surina, Biologist in the Natural History Museum of Rijeka

Q&A

18.20 - How can nature help urban planners and architects to make our cities more sustainable?

Mr Saša Begović, Senior partner in Studio 3LHD , Zagreb

Mrs Gorana B. Stipeć - Head of Youth section of Rijeka's architecture society – DAR

Q&A

19.00 - How can citizens act at the local level to protect and monitor biodiversity in cities?

Mrs Iva Šoštarić, Associate for nature conservation, Association Biom , BirdLife Croatia

Mrs Bia Gec , Landscape architect, KD Čistoća d.o.o.

Q&A

19.40 – Conclusions, followed by a drink